

Cambridge English

11th February 2015

15.15 – 17.45

Liceo Scientifico A.Volta

Via Martiri di via Fani, 1

71122 FOGGIA

PROGRAMME

15.15 – 15.30

Registration

15.30 – 16.15

Thinking: The Invisible Skill

Strategies and clear, practical examples on how to develop Higher Order Thinking skills within the English lesson as a way to improve student proficiency.

Emily Gregson, Cambridge University Press ELT Consultant

16.15 – 16.45

Materials Exhibition

16.45 – 17.30

Are you really listening? Helping learners to approach listening tasks with confidence

Listening is a skill that needs to be developed in the classroom to ensure students can approach assessment confidently. All too often listening is tested rather than providing learners with the strategies they need to approach tasks and texts confidently.

This workshop will look at activities that help learners to listen more effectively. We will look at how learners process information and we will evaluate the affective filter that may inhibit learners.

Cambridge English Language Assessment Presenter

17.30 – 17.45

Q & A

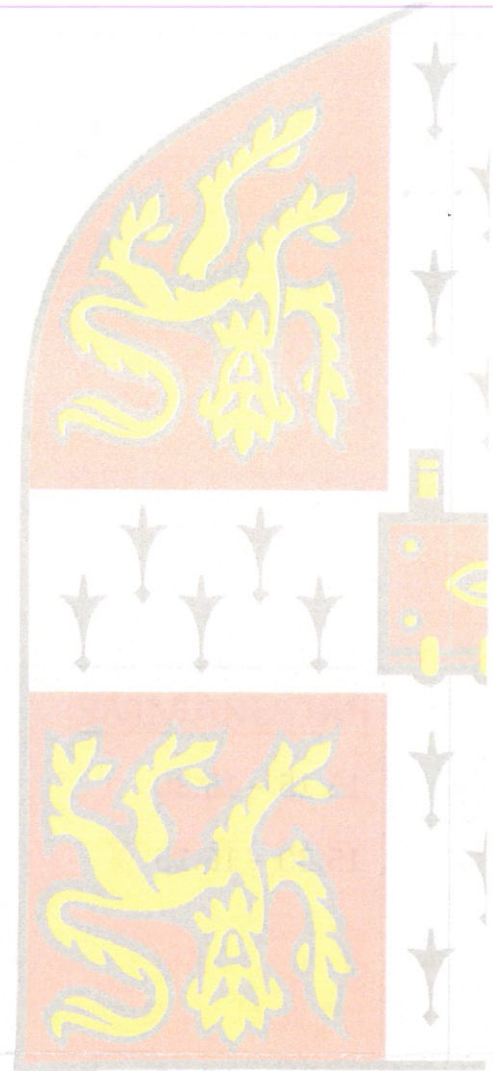

To participate in this event book a place by 10th February 2014
register online at

<http://cupeventfoggia.eventbrite.it>

Certificate of attendance will be generated automatically after the event and it is valid for
"Esonero Ministeriale al Servizio"

SEMINARS

Cambridge English Teacher Development Italy

Cambridge University Press (prot. 12652, Decreto del 28.07.2008) e Cambridge English Language Assessment (prot. 1372, Decreto del 21.07.2005) sono soggetti accreditati per la formazione del personale della scuola di ogni ordine e grado, secondo la Direttiva Ministeriale 90/2003.

In association with:

